We provide opportunities to make great business connections, share relevant business information, and advocate on behalf of businesses and organizations working and investing in Tanzania.

Promotion: People turn to our website for information, and a listing on our website gets attention. Cost-effective marketing opportunities exist through the Chamber's events, programs, Web site, sponsorships and in-house publications.

Referrals: Members are always the first to be referred.

Branding: AmCham-TZ proudly communicates that its members provide superior customer service and products. Membership extends credibility and implies that you are trustworthy, involved in your community and care about your customers.

Events: Our regular networking events are becoming well---known as the best way to make great business connections in Tanzania.

Public Policy Advocacy

In addition to our networking events, we hold interesting and informative Panel Discussions and Breakfast Briefings that allow people to learn about new opportunities and share information about their work. We regularly share relevant information with our membership.

We engage in advocacy efforts with the Tanzanian and U.S. governments on our members' behalf. From time to time we hold Business Roundtables inviting relevant stakeholders to participate in a free---wheeling open discussion on a specific issue. Our current policy direction is summarized as working to effect transparency in taxation, working towards a more efficient regulatory environment, ending the skills gap by streamlining HR policies, and issues regarding local ownership of businesses investing and working in Tanzania.
